RIGHT TO INFORMATION ACT, 2005

CHAPTER I

INTRODUCTION

In democracy, citizens are to be informed about the policies, programmes, acts, rules, procedures followed in Government organizations. The instruments of the Government are accountable to the governed and the corrupt malpractices cannot be curbed unless there is accurate information available to the public in general.

With the above object in view, Government of India have enacted an act to provide for setting out the practical regime of right to information for citizens to secure access to information under the control of public authorities, in order to promote transparency and accountability in the working of every public authority, the constitution of a Central Information Commission and State Information Commissions and for matters connected therewith or incidental thereto.

The right to Information Bill, 2005 was passed by the House of Parliament and received the assent of the President of India on 15.6.2005. It was published as "Right to Information Act, 2005" in the Gazette of India vide No. 25 on 21.6.2005 and it has come into force with effect from 15.6.2005.
As per the Act, each public authority has to fulfil certain obligations before expiry of 100/120 days from the commencement of the Act i.e. by 23.9.2005/12.10.2005.

Section 4 (1) (a) of the Act casts an obligation on each public authority to maintain records. This section reads as follows:

“Maintain all its records duly catalogued and indexed in manner and the form which facilitates the right to information under this Act and ensure that all records that are appropriate to be computerized are, within a reasonable time and subject to availability of resources, computerized and connected through a network all over the country on different systems so that access to such records is facilitated”.

Section 4 (1) (b) of the Act casts an obligation on each public authority to publish within expiry of 120 days from the commencement of the Act, to publish manuals on the 17 items contained in Chapters 2 to 17 herein for each access and understanding by Citizens, City Society Organizations, Public representatives, officers and employees of public authorities including Central and State Information Commissions, Public Information Officers and Assistant Public Information officers and Appellate Officers etc.

This information handbook so far as Department of Youth Services deals with the following chapters:
